Regular Meeting of Town Council Again Hears Delegation

Requests Again Made for Relief by Representatives of Unemployed

At the last regular meeting of the council on Feb. 23, the following were present: Mayor Pattington, C. Ruelton, Borrow, W. Antio, Jackson and L. Jones.

Councillor Jones took the oath of office before J. Ford, secretary. Bylaw No. 103, to appoint J. Ford as assessor for 1932, was given its third reading. The mayor reported receiving a letter from G. E. Cruickshank, M. L. A., in connection with relief work on the Red Trail, and it is reported this work will be continued for the present.

The delegation which on a previous occasion appeared before the council, headed by J. Melanchoik, again requested relief and that light and water should be continued if the parties seeking relief cannot pay. On motion of C. Ruelton and Antrobus, a motion was carried that the applications be left in the hands of the Relief committee.

The only account passed was for W. Nelson, for duties on municipal election day, $7.50, following which the meeting adjourned.

Silver Wedding Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans held a surprise party at their home on Saturday, Feb. 20, the guests of honor being Mr. and Mrs. T. Higginbotham, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Their friends extended them good wishes for many more years of happiness.

Prize winners at cards were Mrs. J. Derbyshire, Mr. George Evans, and consolation prizes to Mrs. Fred Cox and Mr. J. H. Boulton, while in another game Mrs. Higginbotham and Mr. R. Evans were the winners. There were seven tables in play, and 32 people were present.

The guests of the evening were presented with a handsome silver flower vase, and the occasion was a complete surprise to them.

Mr. Alfred Howle, representing the Onard Steamship Co., will give an address with educational lantern slides, kindly loaned by the Great Western Railway in Wales, in the United Church on Monday, March 7th, at 7.45 p.m. These views have been shown by Mr. Howle at several United churches in Calgary. A silver collection will be taken in behalf of the church, and a public invitation is extended. The title of the address is "A trip round the coast from Pwllheli to St. David's," by courtesy of the Great Western Railway.

Jack Frost—King of Architects

Jack Frost, nature's greatest architect, completed yet another wonderful job, at Banff, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through the Rocky Mountains, this winter, when he designed and built the columns of the ice-castle of the Carnival Queer. As is easily seen by the picture, the two great pillars are the outstanding features of the palace. They were built by putting into play, one month before the opening of the great event, two vertical streams of water. Then, more men got busy and built the connecting wall of gleaming transparent ice-blocks, between the two pillars, and set in front of it the great throne of ice from which the ceremonies of the Carnival were conducted, in the presence of thousands of spectators from all parts of Canada and the United States. Snow and ice contests of all kinds, winter sports in profusion, including the Alberta Provincial Skating Championships, went to make up the programme, which terminated in the election of Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drumheller, Alta., well-known as a tennis and hockey enthusiast, as Carnival Queen for 1932. Her picture is shown inset.

Judgment Reserved Court Action Klish vs. Polish Society

Chief Justice Simmons Holds That Action by Society Was Invalid

The following report appeared in a recent issue of the Calgary Albertan, in reference to a law suit in which Mike Klish of Coleman was the plaintiff respondent:

Their Lordships reserved judgment in the appeal from Chief Justice Simmons in the case of Mike Klish, Coleman, plaintiff respondent, and the Polish Society of Brothers Aid of Coleman, defendant appellant.

Plaintiff is one of the five incorporators of the society and signed the application for incorporation on April 3, 1918. He claims that he was a member until December 3, 1930.

Plaintiff alleged that on November 2, 1930, the society "passed judgment" on him, pronouncing him "guilty of the crime of slander" so the court unanimously fines the brother $10. Following this "judgment" he claims that he was expelled.

Klish sought to establish that the expulsion was unlawful and that he suffered damage to his reputation "by reason and on account of his said expulsion and the publicity given thereto." He brought suit for an order reinstating him as a member of the society.

Chief Justice Simmons held the proceedings invalid, on the grounds that "the plaintiff was never allowed an opportunity to make out his case, he was never given any particulars of the charge, he was never given the name of his complainants."

"I think they will have to proceed in that way if they want to avail themselves of the powers which they no doubt have. Unless he proves special damages he is not entitled to any. He is entitled to nominal damages, that will be out of costs."

"The plaintiff is entitled to a declaration . . . that the expulsion . . . was unlawful because no notice was given to him of the proceedings, nor were the names of the complainants against him, nor the nature of the charges, nor was he allowed an opportunity to defend himself, or explain the charges. He will be entitled to be declared still a member in good standing. . . costs will be given to the plaintiff."

Bishop Sherman Held Confirmation Service

Confirmation service at St. Alban's on Sunday, at which the Rt. Rev. L. Ralph Sherman, D. D., bishop of Calgary, officiated, was the occasion of an inspirational address by his lordship on the life of Jesus Christ, and how in this time of stress and difficulty, particularly in this Lenten season, we should remember that, trying as times may be, yet such was the everyday life of the Saviour. He was born in a manger, and died on the cross with a thief on each side. Even his tomb belonged to someone else. Things were not right in the world, and there was need for deep study to solve our problems, yet did not our difficulties bring us nearer to Christ? There were none who became hardened by trial and suffering, yet the example of our Lord should ever be borne in mind if we are to make life's paths more pleasant for those around us.

Eight candidates were confirmed, the bishop's address to the candidates being on Discipleship. He pointed out that Confirmation was really entering in discipleship, and his remarks were heard with deep interest by the candidates and the congregation.

In the evening the bishop addressed the congregation at St. Luke's, Blairmore, and following the service met a number of the congregation. He returned on the night train to Calgary.

Red Trail Association Re Organized at Fernie—Greenway President

Meeting Decided to Proceed With Publishing 20,000 Copies of Revised Tourist Map

The delegates of Boards of Trade east of Fernie were unable to attend the meeting held there on Saturday, Feb. 20, owing to the road being impassable west of Michel. R. W. Greenway president of Lethbridge Board of Trade, and J. S. Ross came on the bus, but were compelled to stop off here, and got in touch with Fernie by telephone. They returned the following morning to Lethbridge. An organization was formed at Fernie, several of the towns west being represented. R. W. Greenway was appointed president and L. L. Morgan of Blairmore was appointed to the executive.

Coleman Board of Trade will join in the cost of the map, being assessed $50. The total cost of $1000 will be shared by all towns from Lethbridge to Nelson.

The local board will call its annual meeting next Wednesday, at 2.30 p.m. sharp in the council chamber, at which the executive's reports for the past year will be submitted, and activities for the coming year discussed.

Charge accounts entail considerably more expense to the merchants and the customer than if all purchases were paid for in cash. It entails book keeping, postage and interest on cash which would be eliminated if business was carried on for cash on all small purchases. Try and make this the rule, for it is well known that goods can be sold on a closer margin of profit when charging costs are eliminated.

With an effort of will Jean tried to banish the recollection of Sir Adrian from her thoughts. The picture of his thin, leaden-bued face, with its cruel mouth and furtive, suspicious eyes, was out of harmony with this soft day of spring. She wished she had not let the thought of him intrude upon her pleasant reverie at all. His sinister figure seemed to cast a shadow over the sunlit river, a shadow which grew bigger and bigger, blurring the green of the trees and the sky's faint blue, and even silencing the comfortable little chirrup of the birds, busy with their spring housekeeping. At least, Jean couldn't hear them any longer, and she took no notice when one enterprising young cock-bird hopped near enough to tick a feather that she had overlooked and that the housemaid was calling to her very loudly to waken her.

The next thing she was conscious of was of sitting up with great suddenness, under the impression that she had overlooked and that the housemaid was calling to her very loudly to waken her. Someone was calling—shouting lustily, in fact, and collecting her sleep-bemused faculties, she realised that instead of being securely moored against the bank her boat was rocking gently in mid-stream, and that the occupant of another boat, coming from the opposite direction, was doing his indignant best to attract her attention, since just at that point the river was too narrow for them to pass one another unless each pulled well in towards the bank.

Jean reached hastily for her scull, only to find, to her intense astonishment, that they had vanished as completely as though they had never existed. She cast a rapid glance of dismay around her, examining the surface of the water in her vicinity for any trace of them. But there was none. She was floating serenely down the middle of the stream, perfectly helpless to pull out of the way of the on-coming boat.

Meanwhile its occupant was calling

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer from indigestion, they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once, the symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use cruder methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, as prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store.

out instructions—tempering his wrath with an irritable kind of politeness as he perceived that the fool whose craft blocked the way was of the feminine persuasion.

"Pull in a bit please. We can't pass here if you don't. . . Pull in!" he yelled rather more irately as Jean's boat still remained in the middle of the river, drifting placidly down his.

She flung up her hand. "I can't!" she shouted back. "I've lost my scull!" "Lost your scull?" The man's tones sufficiently implied what he thought of the proceeding.

A couple of strokes, and, gripping the gunwale of her boat as he drew level, he steadied it to a standstill alongside his own. Jean's eyes travelled swiftly from the squarish muscular-looking hand that gripped the boat's side to the face of its owner. He was decidedly an ugly man as far as features were concerned, with a dogged-looking chin and a conquering beak of a nose that jutted out arrogantly from his craggy face. The sun glinted on a crop of reddish-brown hair, springing crisply from the scalp in a way that suggested immense vitality; Jean had cracked sounds if it were brushed hard. His eyebrows, frowning in defiance against the sun, were of the same hue as his hair and very thick; in later life they would probably develop into the bristling, pent-house variety. The eyes themselves, as Jean described them at a later occasion, were "too red to be brown"; an artist would have had to make extensive use of burnt sienna pigment in portraying them. Altogether, he was not a particularly attractive-looking individual—and just now the red-brown eyes were fixed on Jean in a rather uncompromising glare.

"How on earth did you lose your scull?" he demanded—as indignantly as though she had done it on purpose, she commented indignantly.

Her lips twitched in the endeavour to suppress a smile. "I haven't the least idea," she confessed. "I tied up under some trees further up—and I suppose I must have fallen asleep. But still that can't explain how I came to be adrift like this."

"A woman's knot, I expect," he vouchsafed rather scornfully. "A woman never ties up properly. Probably you just looped the painter round any old thing and trusted to Providence that it would stay looped." She gave vent to a low laugh.

"I believe you've described the process quite accurately," she admitted. "But I've done the same thing before without any evil consequences. There's hardly any current here, you know, I don't believe—with conviction—that my loop could have unlooped itself. And anyway"—triumphantly—"the scull wouldn't have jumped out of the boat without assistance."

The man smiled, revealing strong white teeth. "No, I suppose not. I fancy"—the smile broadening—"some small boy must have spotted you asleep in the boat and, finding the opportunity too good to be resisted, removed your tackle and set you adrift."

There was a sympathetic twinkle in his eyes, and Jean, suddenly sensing the "little boy" in him which lurks in every grown-up man, flashed back: "I believe that's exactly what you would have done yourself in your urchin days."

"I believe it is," he acknowledged, laughing outright. "Well, the only thing to do now is for me to tow you back. Where do you want to go—up or down the river?"

"Up, please. I want to get back to Staple."

He threw a quick glance at her. "Surely you must be Miss Peterson?"

She nodded. "Yes. How did you guess?"

"My sister, Mrs. Craig, told me a Miss Peterson was staying at Staple. It wasn't difficult, after that, to put two and two together."

"Then you must be Geoffrey Burke?" returned Jean.

He nodded. "That's right. So now that we know each other, will you come into my parlour?"—smiling. "I'm going to take you back, there seems no reason why we shouldn't accomplish the journey together and tow your boat behind."

He held out his hand to steady her as she stepped lightly from one boat to the other, and soon they were gliding smoothly upstream, the empty craft trailing along in their wake.

For a while Burke sculled in silence, and Jean leant back, gazing at the effortless, rhythmic swing of his body as he beat to his oars. His shirt was open at the throat, revealing the strong, broad-based neck, and she noted in a detached fashion that usually, fine hairs covered his bare arms with a golden down, even encroaching on to the flanks of his broad, muscular hands.

She found herself femininely conscious that the most dominant quality about the man was his sheer virility. Nor was it just a matter of appearance. It lay in something more fundamental than merely external. She had known men of great physical strength to be not infrequently gifted with an almost feminine gentleness of nature, yet she was sure this latter element played but a small part in the make-up of Geoffrey Burke.

The absolute ease with which he sent the boat shearing through the water seemed to her in some way typical. It conveyed a sense of mastery that was unquestionable, even a little overpowering.

She felt certain that he was, above and before all other things, a primeval male, forceful and conquering, of the type who in a different age would have cheerfully bludgeoned his way through any and every obstacle that stood between him and the woman he had chosen as his mate—and, afterwards, if necessary, bludgeoned the lady herself into submission.

Burke's voice broke suddenly across her thoughts, and she looked around, recognising the place where she had moored her boat earlier in the afternoon.

"How did you divine that?" she asked.

"It didn't require much divination! There are your scull"—pointing—"stuck up against the trunk of a tree—and looking as though they might topple over at any moment. I fancy!"—with a smile—"that my 'small boy' theory was correct. I believe I could even put a name to the particular limb of Satan responsible."

"You moored your boat on the Willow Ferry side of the stream, and our lodge-keeper's kids are a troop of young demons. They want a thorough good thrashing, and I'll see that they get it before they are much older."

He pulled in to the shore and rescuing the sculls from their precarious position, restored them to the empty boat.

"All the same," he added, as a few minutes later, he helped Jean out on to the little wooden landing place at Staple. "I think I'm rather grateful to the small boy—whatever he may be!"

Reindeer Trek

Herd Brought In Alaska Nearing End Of Long Journey

The 3,000 reindeer bought in Alaska by the Canadian Government in 1929 are expected to reach the east side of the Mackenzie Delta during the summer, according to C. S. Macdonald, of the Department of the Interior, addressing the Dominion Land Surveyors' Convention at Ottawa. They are now being herded over the vast distances that separate them from their new home. The original herd in Alaska 40 years ago numbered 1,200 and has now increased to 750,000. It is estimated that 600,000 reindeer can be pastured along Canada's Arctic Coast.

Ask Restoration Of Titles In Canada

Ottawa Receives Communication From Toronto Urging Early Action

Restoration of titles in Canada is being urged upon senators and members of the House of Commons. The appeal came in letters addressed to parliamentarians from the "King's prerogative in our monarchical democracy." Toronto. Parliamentary action for the restoration of titles is urged by the Imperial Economic Conference takes place in Ottawa in July.

"Such honors," the communications read, "should be given to those who have really done something worthy of the honor, and particularly to those who have advanced the interests of Canada and the Empire, whether it be in the realms of science, art, literature, law, finance or any other walk of life."

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Until expelled and the system cleared of them, the worms keep up their head. Miller's Worm Powders are prompt and efficient, not only for the eradication of worms, but also as a toner up for children that are run down in consequence.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

OF JOYS MOST SWEET

How little life would be Had it not brought to me Your hand, your smiles. Had it not given me this One taste of perfect bliss A little while. Joy's self is ever fleet And this, of joys most sweet, Can not remain. Like rose that blooms to die, Like dawning in the sky, We see it wane. Yet this rare gift alone Will fill all griefs at once. That years may bring. No can life fiddle be Since it has brought to me This perfect thing!

Graded Beef Consumption

Throughout Canada there is a gradual increase in the consumption of graded and branded beef, owing to its superior quality. Professor R. S. Hamer, of Dominion Livestock Branch, Department of Agriculture, stated recently in an address at the annual meeting of the Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association. Seventeen million pounds of branded meat were sold last year, he said.

Sunshine Indoors

To bring sunshine indoors, an inventor in France has devised a system of mirrors and lenses which project sun rays from a skylight into the interior of a room and reflect back from a mirror bowl on the ground floor.

The famous Hanging Gardens of Babylon were a series of terraces planted with trees and vines and watered, so as to duplicate a mountain side in luxuriant bloom.

Chances Never Better For Helping Others

Much Can Be Done Even If Money Is Scarce

These are lean times. The question in many minds is how long will these times last and can we outlast them. Innumerable people would like to help with their families. It is a pity they can't. It would bring their problems a good deal nearer the solution. As it is, shall we go on living? In spite of the manifest attractions of liberalism, the answer to that must be "Go On Living."

If you can't live as you did, live as you didn't.

If you really amount to a little something your personality may be much more valuable than you suspect, and if you happen to have had a lot of money, the glare and care of that, and of perpetual planning for its disbursement may have obscured other values.

Money, of course, is helpful to the doing of many things, but there is much that can be done without it. Great gifts that may be made, great helps afforded. There are things one can do with his hands, things with his head, things with his heart, and bad times bring increased opportunity to do them all. By talk, by sympathy, fear may be chased away, despair dispelled. When people don't know which way to turn, you may be able to make invaluable suggestions. Your smiles, your tears, your understanding, all are gifts unaffected by the fits of Wall Street or the wobbles of the gold standard.

Moreover, if you get to having other people on your mind, chances and means to help them multiply. The trouble with the world at present is not a lack of money—there is lots of it; not a lack of anything that grows or can be made—such things abound to excess. It is a lack of intelligence, of understanding of life, of brains and spirits consecrated to human welfare.

What you may have lost wouldn't have helped much even if you had it, but what you have left may help immensely if you have the heart, imagination and courage to use it.

The true home for us lies beyond those waters, and, oh! the rudder needs a firm hand, and the voyager to steer him. So, then, whatever our voyage may hither have been, when we have gazed from the stern on the shores that fade behind us, and afterwards, as we turn away again to look on the misty uncertainties of all that may assist us in our future course, let us pray that touching prayer of the Breton mariners, "Save us, O God! Thine ocean is so large, and our little boat so small."—Frederic W. Farrar.

Fish Lived In Tree

A number of fishes were deprived of their winter home when workmen engaged in cleaning up the river bed at Verona, Michigan, hauled to shore a few felled tree that had lain on the bottom of the river bed for years. As the large tree was drawn out of the water, observers were astonished to see fishes of various sizes slip back into the water. One large-mouthed black bass among the lot was estimated to be two feet long.

Sharp Pains In His Heart Nerves In Bad Condition

Mr. Fred J. Chase, Thomson Station, N.S., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart Nerve Pills with wonderful results."

My heart would beat so fast I would have to sit down when at work, chopping in the woods. I had sharp pains in my heart when I would sit down at night.

My nerves were also in a very bad condition, but after using two boxes of Milburn's Heart Nerve Pills I feel just fine, and am fourteen pounds heavier than I have been for years."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Three weeks from Monday next the eighth annual musical festival of the Crows Nest Pass will open at Blairmore, an event which will be pleasantly anticipated, and later enjoyed by a large number of people in the Pass towns. Music gladdens the heart, especially when we hear competitors from our own towns taking part in a festival.

It is a pleasant change from jazz bands and crooners to hear worth-while honest-to-goodness music. And by encouraging the laudable ambition among the younger people to excel in instrumental and vocal music, pleasure is being derived by those who desire that culture shall be given its place in this industrial area. To play or sing and provide enjoyment for others is an accomplishment well worth cultivating, and the musical festival provides an incentive which tends towards vigorous development in this particular branch of study.

At the time this is written trouble is again existent in the mining industry. Mine workers at Blairmore and Bellevue, employed by West Canadian Collieries, ceased work because a man was laid off for alleged insubordination. The result is that instead of half a loaf in a prolonged slack period, no loaf is being provided by the workers. In no other industry are lay-offs or strikes so frequent as the coal industry.

Trade unions are essential to maintain a fair standard of wages for workers in all industries. But sensible leaders recognize that a labor union cannot succeed by tyranny any more than an employers' federation can. To close up avenues for employment entails financial loss, oft-times unfortunately, more to the worker than to those who employ him. The past year has seen recurrences of disputes for various reasons, and with frequent changes of leadership in the unions, it appears that these troubles have been accentuated. There does not appear to be a Moses to arise and point the way to more harmonious working relations between employers and employed, and under such a condition there is little likelihood of smooth sailing.

Added to the proposed provincial income tax, there will be another burden added to the tax-payers, in 6.75 interest on the $5,000,000 borrowed by the government. The man on the street who pays the taxes has nothing to cheer about in having this added to what he must eventually pay. When wages are cut by governments and companies it would appear logical that interest rates should be cut too, instead of increased as has been done with this latest loan. If this price has to be paid for borrowed money, it is better to get along without it, the same as the individual has to. It is another illustration of "to him who hath, more shall be given."

Another instance of the injustice of things is that the Federal government cuts salaries of the rank and file in its employ by ten per cent, whilst judges receiving $9,000 a year or more are not affected. The man receiving $1,000 is cut to $900, which cuts down his ability to buy the common necessities. Can it be wondered that the masses of the people protest, or ask is there a law for the rich and another for the poor? Even worse than that is the heavy cut made on police magistrates by the provincial government.

An auto-driver pulled into a so-called service station at 10 a.m., with another following closely behind. The station had not yet opened. They drove on to the next gas-tank, and a young chap was there. "Gosh," said he, "I never figured on opening this pump to day." Another chap in business, said he found things quiet, and he expected there would be a strike, so that business would be quiet, and then there would be no business next winter. The salesman talking to him fled in horror lest he would catch the spirit of such abject pessimism, which fear had bred into the hearts of those who saw nothing but gloom. And there are plenty of people of whom fear has taken possession, and who are mentally paralyzed by it. One glance at them tells the story.

Ho Hum! To land printing orders, we have to compete in prices with printing houses large and small from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in this highly competitive age. We are expected to turn out a newspaper reflecting the activities of the town on a very meagre advertising revenue, frequently insufficient to pay the production costs. Yet some remark that the printing business must be a "snap." Possibly that's why we may feel a little "snappy" at times in trying to round up sufficient advertising and printing to carry on "just as usual," or as near as circumstances will permit. But we get a "kick" out of it, keeping the wolf on the doorstep instead of letting him inside, and join in the battle daily with the feeling that sufficient unto the day is the good or evil thereof, without building bridges which we may never cross.

Here and There

The railroads cannot continue to pay a million dollars a day in taxes; they cannot pay interest on their bonds; they cannot buy new equipment unless they earn the money. In putting the railroads in a sound, money-making position we are aiding the whole country, says the Hornell (N.Y.) Tribune Times.

Montreal witnessed an unprecedented invasion from Quebec on the first week-end of February, when over 8000 men, women and children, drawn from all ranks and classes, arrived on the three dollar return Canadian Pacific excursion from the Ancient Capital. Four special trains were used.

Seated on a glittering ice throne between two huge natural icebergs, Miss Margaret Stevenson, of Edmonton, in her role as Carnival Queen and assisted by Miss Honor Lieutenant-Governor W. L. Walsh, opened the 16th Annual Banff Winter Sports Carnival at the Canadian Rockies resort, this month.

The appointment of W. R. Patterson to be General Auditor, Canadian Pacific Railway, has been announced, effective February 1, over the signature of E. E. Lloyd, Comptroller, in succession to G. C. Macdonald, who has recently left. Mr. Patterson, who was born in Toronto in 1890, is one of the youngest railway executives on the continent.

Plans for a national championship for grouse and woodcock dogs are under way and New Brunswick is considered as the best possible locality for staging the event. Field enthusiasts in the United States recently held a meeting to discuss the championship and were greatly influenced by the advice of Ozark Ripley, well known sport writer, who strongly advocated the claims of New Brunswick.

Indication of the contribution made and being made to civilization by the engineering profession was demonstrated at the 46th annual convention of the Engineering Institute of Canada held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, recently. A very wide variety of topics formed the basis of speeches and discussions at the convention at which the most outstanding men in the profession were present.

A little brown jug left Grand Pre, N.S., recently on a four-day journey south to the Land of Dixie. Unlike the brown jug of the old song, it did not contain ale, or anything likely to excite the S. Customs officials. Just water from the historic well of Evangeline at Grand Pre Memorial Park site of the birthplace of Longfellow's heroine. The water will be used to christen the new 10,000 ton steamer "Acadia" to be operated on the run between New York and Yarmouth, N.S.

Ski-ing, the sport that has had the greatest growth of any winter activity in the past decade, reached its peak this year with thousands of skiers trekking out to the Laurentians, north of Montreal, every week-end. Special trains are put at their disposal by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Similar week-end outings are encouraged by this railway in all the great centres of population and it takes a major place at all sport meetings across the continent. ($22)

New Brunswick will be selected as the training ground for the Boston Bruins Hockey Club prior to the 1933 N.H.L. season. About 100 players will go into the hunting camps some time around October 15.

Autumn sowing of all grains in Soviet Russia last year amounted to 95,400,000 acres, representing a decrease of 10.8 per cent from the official fall sowing programme mapped out by the government, according to a recent cable received by the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce.

Week-end trips, so popular last year on Canadian Railway lines, will remain in force this year after February 29, the date set for their discontinuation. The Canadian Passenger Association has reached this decision under pressure of public demand. Under this arrangement, round trip tickets between any Canadian stations for any week-end are offered by the railways at the rate of one and a quarter times the regular single fare.

Two Alberta speed-skating records were smashed at the recent Banff Winter Sports Carnival. The 220 yards event was won by A. E. Hardy, of Saskatoon, in 20 seconds flat, 4-5 seconds better than the former Alberta record. The Three mile event was also taken by Hardy in 9 minutes and 2-5 seconds, being 23 and 3-5 seconds less than the former Alberta record. Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drummondville, elected Carnival Queen and will reign over the Banff Winter Sports Carnival of 1933.

Travelers in Canada at Easter-tide will have the benefit of the same ticket privileges as were granted them at Christmas, according to a recent announcement made by the Canadian Passenger Association on behalf of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways. This concession will be fare and a quarter for round trip, generally to the travelling public, between Thursday, March 24 and Sunday, March 27 with return available up to Tuesday, March 29.

McLeod River Collieries Under New Management

Announcement has come to hand that the McLeod River Hard Coal Company Limited has taken over the assets of the McLeod River Collieries Limited at Mercoal, Alta. The change took effect on January 9 and certain improvements are now under way so that the mine and plant will be able to produce a high class product in whatever preparation or quantity desired.

Head offices of the McLeod River Hard Coal Company Ltd. are in the Canada Life Building, Calgary. As stated by the president, H. McLeod, "McLeod River coal is well-known and with improved methods of mining and preparation, should meet with a favorable reception in the market. We aim to exert every effort to get the trade every satisfaction."

Mr. H. McLeod will be located at Mercoal, Alta.—Western Canada Coal Review.

Makes First Hand Study of Market Conditions

G. A. Vissac, general manager of West Canadian Collieries Ltd., Blairmore, Alta., miners and shippers of Bellevue and Greenhill coals, recently made a trip through Western Canada when he spent some time at the principal centres studying market conditions.

In Winnipeg, particularly, Mr. Vissac found that the prevailing rate of exchange was bringing many plants to Alberta steam coal after burning American coal for some considerable time. He fully recognized what the market demanded and was optimistic in respect to Alberta steam mines increasing their tonnage into Winnipeg.—Western Canada Coal Review.

Compulsory Plan Of State Insurance Is Recommended For B. C.

Victoria, B.C.—Compulsory state insurance in British Columbia for all employed persons with net incomes up to $2,400 a year, and optional insurance for the remainder of the population, are recommendations of the state health insurance commission, whose final report is now in the hands of the government. The insurance would provide for free medical services, including drugs and appliances. The insured would be given a choice of doctors, within reasonable latitude.

The financial structure would be based on either an employee-pay-all plan, or a division of total costs into thirds, two-thirds each to be paid by state and by employers, and five-ninths by insured. The commission believed that the scheme would mean no added expense either to the state or employers of labor, because of the saving to employers in payments to the workmen's compensation medical fund, and the saving to the government and municipalities in their present contributions to hospitals. To the insured it would mean that the greater majority of those who cannot pay for such services could have adequate medical and hospital attention.

A series of alternative schemes are proposed as follows:

Under the minimum scheme, if the employee bore the whole cost, the rate would be $1.14 per month. If the government and employers each contributed two-thirds, the employee would pay 50 cents per month.

If a maternity benefit of $25 were added, the cost would be $1.23, or 68c, with government-employer aid.

A plan to cover dependents of the insured including maternal benefit of $25, would cost $2.72 monthly, or $1.50 with aid.

A plan giving sick benefits and cash allowance of $1 to $150 per day during incapacity, with special benefits, would cost from $2.87 to $3.53 per month, or from $1.57 to $1.93 when the cost is shared.

Contributions would be levied at a flat rate and not on an income basis, as the benefits would be the same for all classes of wage earners.

Administration would be through a central board supplemented by territorial committees composed of insured persons, employers, the medical profession and community welfare organizations.

To avoid the necessity of an advance from the public treasury, it is proposed that the necessary capital be created by means of a "waiting period" of six months during the first year of operation.

The commission, during a period of two years, made an exhaustive review of health insurance laws all over the world. No witness examined directly opposed health insurance. Ninety-five per cent. of them strongly favored it. Mr. Speaker C. F. David, M.L.A. for Cowichan-Newcastle, was chairman. The other members were: G. S. Pearson, M.L.A., Nelson; and W. P. Kennedy. The commission was non-partisan.

Favorable Wheat Situation

Increased Demand For Export Grain Has Made Market Firmer

Ottawa, Ont.—Increased export demand for Canadian wheat during the next two months, with resultant higher prices, appears inevitable. In a statement issued recently by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, favorable factors in the wheat situation are summarized, and it is declared a large continental demand is even now making itself felt.

Bromhall, noted Liverpool authority, who has taken the pessimistic view until recently, now has indicated a growing appreciation of the constructive factors in the wheat situation.

He says:

"Larger buying of foreign wheat by Italy and France, as previously predicted, has already a firming influence upon world's markets and we are of the opinion that continued large buying will prevail during the coming six months, including a better demand from Germany which would be essential to provide the necessary food for the people. The United Kingdom may buy slightly less actively, but the consumption of imported wheat is certainly abnormally large just now. The strength in America and the lack of Russian offerings must in time make for a much better selling market for other exporters."

Developments point to a shortage of good milling wheat in Europe at the present time, and that there are no large supplies of wheat in normal export European countries.

Forecast of government legislation to bolster values on the Buenos Aires wheat market, which may encourage the holding of wheat in the Argentine, appears as a favorable factor for here. If the Argentine action is too drastic, it would mean the switching of trade to Winnipeg where a free hedging market exists.

Trade Vessel From Scotland

Montreal, Que.—Scotland is to send an official trade mission ship to Canada this spring, according to Graham Donaldson of the Anchor Donaldson Line, Glasgow, who arrived in Montreal to conclude arrangements at this end.

Cold Wave In Europe

Eleven Men and Women Frozen To Death In Roumania

London, England.—Snow and bitter cold has swept over most of Europe, and numerous deaths were reported from several points.

In Roumania 11 men and women in a wagon were found frozen to death and their horses also perished on a country road. All the members of two families were reported to have frozen in a Banat village and the Danube was covered with ice for several miles.

In northeastern France three persons died, and the snows interrupted shipping and train service.

The lowest temperature in France was five degrees above zero, but there was snow as far south as Bordeaux.

London had the first real snowfall of the winter and in some of England's rural districts the snow was a foot deep. All small craft in the channel took shelter from a strong easterly gale.

Only Solution Of Problem

Organized Peace Is Not Possible Until Nations Disarm

Geneva, Switzerland.—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's commissar for foreign affairs, told the world disarmament conference that "universal and total disarmament is the only feasible solution" of the problem of organizing peace, averting war and assuring security to the nations of the world.

M. Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister, said Belgium supports the proposal of France for an armed international police force under one League of Nations.

M. Litvinoff rejected schemes for limiting armaments and the French proposal for creating an international police force under the League of Nations. Limitation of armaments was no security against war. The creation of an international force merely added a new army.

Proposed Central Government

Regina Stated To Be Logical Capital For Prairie Provinces

Montreal, Que.—Selection of a capital for the proposed "united provinces of the Canadian west" would be a "bone of contention" and a major difficulty in the realization of that plan, said Mayor Ralph Webb, of Winnipeg, in an interview here. It was Mr. Webb's opinion that Regina, Sask., was the "logical, economic capital" for the three provinces, and he believed that if the matter were voted upon, Regina would be selected. Although the suggestion advanced by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba was not new, it was growing in popularity, Mr. Webb declared.

Air Mail Cost

Ottawa, Ont.—At an estimated total cost to the government of $472,539 there were from July 1, 1931, to January 31, 1932, 224,904 pounds of mail carried in the air mail services, over a total mileage estimated at 644,786 miles. These figures were shown to the House of Commons by Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general.

Well Known Novelist Dead

Edgar Wallace Succumbed To Pneumonia After Brief Illness

Beverly Hills, Cal.—Edgar Wallace, 56, who became one of the world's most prolific and highest paid writers after starting life as a newsboy in the slums of London, England, died February 10, death being due to double pneumonia.

A million and a half of Edgar Wallace's books have been sold in this country, his publishers estimate. It took him about two weeks to write a book, and a week-end was usually enough for a play. In his spare time he conducted a racing column for a London newspaper.

To vary this activity he tried politics, standing as a Liberal candidate for parliament in October 1931, but he was defeated. Wallace was born in 1875 and began writing 20 years later.

Wallace came to Hollywood from his home in England several months ago to write scenarios.

Students Against War

Demonstration At Tokyo Against Course Pursued At Shanghai

Tokyo, Japan.—The first public demonstration of any moment against Japan's course in Shanghai and Manchuria took place recently at the Imperial University.

Twenty-five students were arrested for participating in a protest meeting at which handbills, urging the people to "Stop this Imperialist war," were distributed.

Eight hundred students, assembled in front of the main lecture hall of the university, heard speeches by four of their colleagues and then attempted to parade through the streets in the vicinity carrying red banners. The police dispersed them and arrested the leaders.

Want Bilingual Coins

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons will be asked to approve a resolution advocating that Canadian currency should be in both English and French. O. L. Boulanger (Lib., Bellechasse), has placed this request on the order paper of the House.

Japan Has Refused To Withdraw From League Of Nations

To Amend Juvenile Act

Bill Designed To Meet Representations Received From Seven Provinces

Ottawa, Ont.—A bill to amend the Juvenile Delinquents Act, in line with representations received from the Province of Manitoba, endorsed by six other provinces, was given first reading in the House of Commons.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, explained that the amendment arose from the fact that the act as it now stands provides that it is an offence for anyone to contribute, promote, or procure a child to become a delinquent. It had been held by magistrates in certain courts, however, that while a man might do all in his power to procure a youth to become a delinquent, if that youth did not actually become a delinquent, the man was not punishable.

It was proposed to insert a clause providing that it shall not be a valid defence to a prosecution that, notwithstanding the conduct of the accused, the child did not in fact become a delinquent.

The amendment, Mr. Guthrie said, was endorsed by nearly all the Children's Aid Societies.

Gold Strike In New Area

Large Mining Group Has Taken Option In Manitoba

The Pas, Man.—White Manitoba's winter gold rush at Island Lake is proceeding with increasing vigor word of another gold strike reached here. The new strike is near mile 286 on the Hudson Bay Railway and a large mining group has optioned a group of claims there. Drills and equipment will be taken in within a few days to begin exploration work.

No details of the location of the claims, other than that Mile 286 would be the basis of operation, were divulged. Word of the development, however, confirmed rumors of a gold-silver strike somewhere along the Hudson Bay Railway which have been current in the prospecting fraternity here for weeks.

Island Lake, directly east of here on the Manitoba-Ontario border is now being put to the test of drilling and blasting operations by equipment and men taken in by aeroplane. Staking of additional claims continues.

Table Report Soon

Ottawa, Ont.—The government will table the report made by the Canadian National, the Canadian Pacific and Province of British Columbia, on the Peace River outlet, at an early opportunity.

Tokyo, Japan.—Japan will remain in the League of Nations "until driven out," and fight there her case with China, a foreign office spokesman said commenting on the prospect of the China-Japanese difficulties being brought before the assembly of the league within the week.

Geneva, Switzerland.—China took the last diplomatic step but one to halt hostilities in Shanghai and the council of the League of Nations avoided the issue until later.

Dr. W. Y. Yen, chief of the Chinese delegation, filed a formal request with the council asking that body to refer the China-Japanese controversy to a meeting of the assembly. He acted only a few minutes before the two-week time limit expired for submission of grievances under article XV of the League Covenant.

The 12 neutral members of the council, in a secret, protracted session, decided they would not convene the assembly on their own responsibility but would hold a plenary meeting when it will be decided whether the Chinese delegation or the council itself will take the initiative.

Dr. Yen's move placed the council in a painful dilemma, for if it decides to summon the assembly of its own volition it is generally believed in informed circles that Japan would withdraw from the league forthwith.

Important Change Asked

"Kingdom Of Canada" Suggested As Official Name

Ottawa, Ont.—Changing of the official name of the Dominion of Canada to the "Kingdom of Canada," is advocated in a resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Armand Lavergne, deputy speaker and Conservative member for Montmagny.

Mr. Lavergne asks the House to declare that "it is in the interest of the empire and the Canadian confederation" that the change be made. The deputy speaker will hardly be recovered from his illness to be able to attend the House for several weeks, and until his return the resolution will not be discussed.

U.S. Emergency Measure

Washington, D.C.—United States congressional leaders agreed with President Hoover on a new legislative drive for better times directed at freeing billions of sound securities for active credit use. The new emergency measure which will be pushed simultaneously and immediately in the Senate and House also proposes to make serviceable nearly one billion dollars of the treasury's gold supply not now needed for reserve.

Gasoline Prices To Be Investigated By Parliamentary Committee

Ottawa, Ont.—Investigation of gasoline prices in Canada will be made by a parliamentary committee. The Commons passed a resolution by Dr. Thomas F. Donnelly, Liberal, Willow Bunch, calling for inquiry by the banking and commerce committee of the House.

The government had no objection to the inquiry, Premier R. B. Bennett announced. It was prepared to pass the resolution and supply technical assistance for the committee. Three of the largest companies, the Imperial Oil Company, McCall-Promontor Oil Company, and the British-American Oil Company had assured him they would welcome investigation of prices and bare their books before any court, the Prime Minister added.

Dr. Donnelly laid before the House comparative gasoline prices in Canada and United States. Reduced to the same unit the gallon measure and shown of taxation the average price in eight United States cities in 1931 was 15 1/2 cents, he said. In eight Canadian cities, the average price was 23.3 cents. This discrepancy, Dr. Donnelly asserted was due to the increased tax and the extra valuations for duty purposes set by the government.

Charles E. Bothwell, Liberal, Swift Current, reminded the Prime Minister of his promise to remove the protection if any industry exploited Canadians.

A. M. Carmichael, U.F.A., Kinross, and John L. Brown, Liberal, Leduc, urged the investigation be enlarged to include all petroleum products.

In accepting the investigation, said Premier Bennett, the government was taking no sides on the argument of excessive gasoline prices.

Last year, Dr. Donnelly said, he paid 10 cents per wine gallon for gasoline purchased at a station in Camden, N.J., which included three cents state tax. The wine gallon represented 80.4 per cent. of an imperial gallon. On the other hand, in Ottawa, 500 miles distant from Camden, he had paid last year 27 cents per gallon at a service station, which included tax of five cents per gallon. Was there any reason for such a great difference, he asked.

Dr. Donnelly said that in 1930 when the Liberal Government was in power the tariff was: One-half cent British preference, three-quarter cent intermediate, and one cent general, but this had been raised by the Conservative Government to two cents British preference, two and one-quarter cent intermediate and two and one-half cents general. An order-in-council had also been passed by the Conservative Government, he stated, placing the value on imported gasoline for duty purposes at a rate higher than the wholesale price in the United States.

The proper price of gasoline was a matter of vital concern to Canadians, and he asked that the question of proper price be referred to a committee of banking and commerce for investigation and report.

British Chiefs In Shanghai

On the shoulders of these men rests the responsibility for the protection of British and American citizens in war-torn Shanghai. This unusual photograph, made during a conference of the military chiefs, shows, left to right, Colonel R. S. Hooker, commander of the United States Marines in the international settlement; Major Price Williams, of the British defense forces; Major General Barrett, also of the British, and Brigadier-General Richardson in command of British troops in the storm centre. The forces of the nations are being heavily reinforced to cope with any emergencies that may arise.

Products Of Dominions To Enter Britain Free Of Duty Until November

London, England.—Goods from Canada, the other Dominions, India, Southern Rhodesia and mandated territories of the Dominions will be exempt until November 15 next from all provisions of the government's trade bill, seeking to institute general 10 per cent. tariff.

Besides temporary exemption for goods from the Dominions and their mandated territories the published text of the bill revealed two new provisions about which the government previously had said nothing. It contained also a full list of articles exempt under the proposed tariff.

News that products of the Dominions would enter Great Britain duty free until the middle of next November came as something of a surprise in view of previous statements in the House leading to the belief that they would be exempt only until after the Imperial Economic Conference which will open at Ottawa July 18.

One new provision is a welcome surprise to shipbuilding interests. Imported goods consigned direct to a shipbuilding yard, and intended to be used in the building, repairing or refitting of ships in that yard, will be exempt from the 10 per cent duty. This effectively secures the exemption of the raw materials for one of the greatest of British industries.

The other new provision is for a census of production. Instead of having to wait for long periods the Board of Trade will now be enabled to get, at any time, information on production that it desires.

Another important feature revealed by the text is that the new tariff advisory committee will not be permitted to consider any additions to the free list, until the 10 per cent duty has been in force for at least six months.

Chief articles on the free list, and articles therefore on which the Dominions will not receive the additional 10 per cent. measure of Imperial preference, are:

Wheat in grain, most including bacon, raw cotton and raw wool, fish of British catch, tea, newspapers, raw wool in rolls containing not less than 70 per cent. mechanical woodpulp; wood pulp, raw rubber, iron ore and tin ore.

All agricultural and horticultural products from foreign countries except wheat, are liable to the duty. The bill, which, when it becomes law, will change the whole fiscal system of Great Britain, consists of three parts, 22 clauses in all, and three schedules.

The bill aims at restricting the importation of goods "in the national interest," it states, and at "making addition to the public revenue." The general ad valorem duties will be imposed from March 1 next.

Steps are already being taken by the government to constitute the import duties advisory committee so it may be able to function at the earliest possible moment.

Miners Played Stiff Battle

whole of the game.

The Coleman team is made up of a lot of classy juniors who put forward a real argument. With puck carrying almost impossible, the teams resorted to long distance shooting and many drives on both forts came close to the mark. Leo Shannon's lone attempt in the second period resulted in the only goal of the game to give Jimmie the victory.

Shortly after the reverse, Coleman forwards got the disc past Gardiner, but Referee Elliott had rung the bell for offside just as the puck went into the net and the play was called back.

A fair crowd was on hand to watch the proceedings and gave both teams lots of vocal encouragement.

The opening session was scoreless, both teams finding it hard to control the puck. Driving ahead was the only method which brought results and many wild attempts to do this were witnessed. Rubica, Wade and Bannister drew penalties in this frame, but neither team could take advantage of numerical superiority.

After about five minutes of play in the middle session, Shannon got in a drive that evaded DeCocco.
Right after the score, the Jimmie wingman was chased for tripping and the Coleman forwards gave the Jimmies' defence an anxious time.
Bannister and Rubica started a minor scrap of their own and both were punished.

The final session was a repetition of the first two, with the Miners giving everything they had in an attempt to even matters, but the locals held them out. DeCocco and Kwasni were unfortunately hurt during this session but resumed play after repairs had been made.
A welcome bell brought the game to a close with Jimmies on the long end of a 1-0 score. They now play
Edmonton in the finals.

Jimmies: Gardiner, Thompson,
Wade, Cunningham, Foley, Bannister, Hill, Shannon, Ferguson, Brown.

Coleman: DeCocco, Kwasni,
Johnston, John Kapalka, Rubica,
Joe Kapalka, Mohovich, Jenkins,
Clarke.

Referee, Moch Elliott.

First period—No score. Penalties: Rubica, Wade, Bannister.

Second period—1, Jimmies, Shannon, 5:16. Penalties: Shannon, Bannister, Rubica.

Third period—No score. Penalties: Johnston, Hill, Brown.
